ROME, GA, January 27, 2011 – Medical Oncologist Melissa Dillmon, MD and Neurosurgeon Carl Herring, MD are new members of the Harbin Clinic Board of Directors; it was announced today by Board Chairman Kenneth F. Davis, MD.

Dr. Dillmon was elected as a board member at-large by the Harbin Clinic physicians and is the first female board member for the organization. Her election took place at the recent annual meeting of the Harbin Clinic physicians. Dr. Herring was appointed by his division of the clinic to represent those physicians on the governing board. The Harbin Board is composed of elected at-large members and representatives of the major divisions of the clinic.

Re-elected to the Board at the annual meeting were General Surgeon Paul B. Brock, MD and Cardiothoracic Surgeon Daniel M. Goldfaden, MD. Current board members include Drs. Davis, Michael Ware, Jeffrey S. Peller, Stephen Klasson, Chris Sward, Ray Jarvis, and Robert Puckett.

Harbin Clinic is Georgia's largest physician-owned multi-specialty group with approximately 200 providers in 20 locations throughout North West Georgia.
